Appendix A. Usage guide: Split/Second Velocity". The video cards provided for the game are a nVidia GeForce GTX 1050 Ti (3 GB video memory) and an AMD Radeon R9 M295X (2 GB video memory), along with an Nvidia GTX 970 and an AMD HD 7790 (1 GB video memory). The PC games are published by GSC Gamings' subsidiary Piko Interactive and developed by GSC Game World. Split Second Velocity In the latter, the player will have a customisable aircraft and an in-game Internet browser. The goal is to collect as many stars as possible by crashing into enemies. The game can be played in a co-operative play, allowing up to four players to control the aircraft. The game supports a variety of racing disciplines, and it also features an offline single-player campaign. The game received critical acclaim. The game contains three difficulty levels, a career mode, and a campaign that allows the player to choose any of the race types, including circuit races, on any tracks of the game's pre-configured locations. While playing the career mode, the player can complete basic training modules, race practice rounds, and races in order to earn experience points, which will allow them to upgrade their car or aircraft in the next race. The game features several cars and aircraft to choose from, and new ones can be unlocked through progress in the career mode. The game is part of the Thrustmaster line.Sponsor Sponsor State senators ask news media about the future of WCCO-TV Two state senators today called for the firing of the general manager of WCCO-TV in Minneapolis. The senate leaders wrote a letter asking WCCO's general manager, Alan Gilbert, to step down after his appearance on a "Metromix" television program last week. Gilbert told the news blog "Minneapolis Next" that he appeared on the "Metromix" program because he thought it was a good idea for the station. "I didn't do it because I'm mad at someone," he said. "But I'm mad at what they did." The letter from State Sen. Linda Bergstrom and State Sen. Julianne Ortman is scathing. "Given the statements made by his general manager (Alan Gilbert), it is clear that this firing is nothing more than a thinly veiled act of revenge," the letter says. The senators
